ALLIES AND TURKS GATHER AT MUDANIA TO ADJUST DISPUTE

French Envoy to Camp of Hostile Nationalist Leader Sees Success.

TURK TROOPS WITHDRAW

Who's of Neutral Zone Now Evacuated by Kemal Pasha's Forces, According to Information From Seat of Near War; Terms Are "Dissensable."

LONDON, Oct. 3.—The Turkish Nationalists today will lay before the representatives of the Allies at Mudania the terms on which they are willing to agree to a suspension of military activity. Constantinople dispatches say the Kemalist proposals, an outline of which has reached the Allied headquarters, "were deemed dissensable but not acceptable" by a council yesterday of the Allied high commissioner, ambassadors, generals and admirals.

Franklin Bouillon, the French envoy whose personal conversations with Mustapha Kemal Pasha made the conference possible, however, expressed the belief that an agreement would be reached.

The Turkish proposals are said to include formal guarantees concerning the evacuation of Thrace by the Greeks, occupation of the territory by Allied troops and transfer of the civil administration to Kemalist functionaries.

PARIS, Oct. 3.—A Havas dispatch from Smyrna, the Turkish Nationalist headquarters, says it is announced the Kemalists have evacuated the neutral zone along the Dardanelles.

GIBRALTAR, Oct. 3.—The United States dreadnought Utah, with Vice-Admiral A. T. Long, commander-in-chief of the European station, has arrived here. He will await the arrival of the cruiser Pittsburgh, to which the flag will be transferred, the Pittsburgh then becoming the flagship of the American naval forces in European waters.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Oct. 3.—Only military matters will be taken up at the conference of Allied and Turkish commanders at Mudania today, the political aspect being disposed of at a later meeting, according to Gen. Franklin Bouillon, whose recent trip to Smyrna, where he conferred with Mustapha Kemal Pasha, was responsible for the summoning of today's armistice. The two most important questions to be discussed today, he said, were demarcation of a neutral zone on the Asiatic side of the Dardanelles and at Ismid and the evacuation of Thrace.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Oct. 3.—(Nedra) The Turkish cavalry has retired from its advanced position in the Chnak area, decreasing the danger of conflict there.

This withdrawal, which is described as messages from the Dardanelles as "all right," was supposed to be in consequence of word received by the Turks that the Mudanian conference was in session. The Turks were said to be still within the neutral zone.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Oct. 3.—Twenty Turkish irregulars, including one officer, were killed by the Greeks after the Turks' invasion of the Chatilia neutral zone yesterday, according to a communiqué issued by the Greek commander-in-chief General Polymenakos.

A Constantinople dispatch yesterday said a band of 600 Turkish irregulars crossed the border of Thrace at Sinop and attacked the Greek outposts. The Turks were thrown back across the boundary after the arrival of Greek reinforcements.

SMYRNA, Oct. 3.—Embarkation of the Greek and Armenian refugees from Smyrna has been stopped by the Turks, the time limit set by Mustapha Kemal Pasha having expired. Approximately 30,000 have evacuated and those remaining will be deported to the interior, whether men, women or children.

Mexican Troops Revolt. MEXICO CITY, Oct. 3.—A meager dispatch from Pachuca, in the state of Chihuahua, to the secretary of the interior, says that the federal garrison of that town revolted yesterday. The cause and extent of the movement are not given.

South Union Man Severely Beaten By Mob at Oliver

Charles Burke, alias "Duke" Burke, John Alexovich and John Bandick of Oliver No. 1 are in jail in Uniontown, held without bail by a New Salem Justice of the peace, for an alleged attack on Samuel Tressler of South Union township, who is in a serious condition at his home. Tressler's son and a negro escaped the mob.

According to information at the hearing Tressler and his son were driving in their automobile toward Connellsville about 7 o'clock Sunday evening. They had picked up a negro who asked for a lift. As they passed through the place a mob is alleged to have followed them, calling "scab."

The mob, it is alleged, dragged Tressler and his son from the car, the negro getting away. They are said to have beaten the father and son, the former into insensibility, the boy escaping to a barn where he hid for two hours. The attackers are said to have robbed Tressler of $50. His car was run over an embankment and wrecked.

It was said Tressler displayed a union card, but it was not accepted as genuine.

COMMITTEE IS MAKING STUDY OF HOUSING PROBLEM

The committee named by the Chamber of Commerce to study the possibility of solving the house shortage question in Connellsville has been active since the arrival of Harry Birn, who has been missing since the night of September 25, shortly before his marriage at Oakville, Mo., was destroyed by fire. In the ruins of the fire was found a charred body which at first was believed to be that of Birn but later determined to be that of Irene, the woman he had married. The supply of water in the reservoir in the valley is at the lowest stage since the reservoir was constructed 17 years ago. The reading yesterday is said to have shown the level of the lake to be 16 inches below the overflow. The previous low stage was 33 inches, in 1919.

The committee will continue to be active in this matter until some tangible method of relief has been devised. C. T. Kepner, president of the Chamber of Commerce, said this morning that the first infiltration plan on a new property seemed one feasible method of encouraging building but a definite call for consideration will be obtained to obtain a bill.

While the commerce body has had a quiet hand in a number of public affairs it is now working together in conjunction with other organizations and the question now before it is one of the first big problems to be handled entirely alone by the chamber.

A warrant also was sworn out against Brennen's wife, who is under arrest in connection with the case. The warrant charges Birn with stealing the corpse from the cemetery, placing it in his garage and setting fire to it, but it did not name him as the man who was buried.

The executives of the body point out that it would be easier to endeavor to bring further industries to the city if the family of employees of those already located here cannot be taken care of and the entire energy of the organization will be put into the effort to stimulate building.

OFFICIALS PAY VISIT TO WATER PLANT IN I. C. V.

Presence Occasioned, in Part, by Record Low Stage of Reservoir.

FACE MANY PROBLEMS

Inspection Reveals Rumor of Contempt of Enlargement of Lake; Filling Up of Basin With Mud and Sulphur Water Must Be Contended With.

Officials of the Pennsylvania Railroad and the system's water companies spent the greater part of Monday inspecting the plant and watered the Mountain Water Supply Company in the Indian Creek Valley, which provide water for the Pennsylvania System in the Pittsburgh region. It was understood here that the water was occasioned by the record low stage of the water supply. It also received a rumor circulated more than a year ago that the company intended to greatly enlarge the reservoir at Mill Run Junction. No confirmation of the report was obtainable.

The party included Vice-President Kennedy of the Pennsylvania Railroad; W. B. McHugh of Philadelphia, general superintendent of water companies for the railroad company; C. A. Spencer of Greensburg, superintendent of water companies; Charles Haydock of Philadelphia, an engineer; Mr. Hauser of the Central Region of the Pennsylvania; Mr. Goff of the real estate department, Pittsburgh; Mr. Wickus of the Pennsylvania Lines West; J. H. Gunns, general superintendent of the Pennsylvania Lines in the Pittsburgh district; Mr. Huene of Philadelphia, in charge of the real estate department of the Pennsylvania, and E. S. Barnes, local superintendent.

The members of the party were met at Greensburg by Mr. Barnes. They motored across the mountain, returning by way of Connellsville.

The supply of water in the reservoir in the valley is at the lowest stage since the reservoir was constructed 17 years ago. The reading yesterday is said to have shown the level of the lake to be 16 inches below the overflow.

The previous low stage was 33 inches, in 1919.

The problem of overcoming the threatened destruction of Indian Creek as a source of water supply by sulphur drainage from mines in the valley was said to have been discussed.

An action to restrain the operators from pumping mine drainage into the creek was started and this morning his body was found hanging from a tree beside the grave of his first wife in Evergreen Cemetery. He was so faithful in attending at the meetings that his absence aroused suspicion.

Business troubles are given as the cause that prompted him to end his life.

Getting down to the actual situation it is said the only means in sight of overcoming the menace is the construction of a sewer to carry the mine water by the reservoir. Under the law, it is said, there is no means of prohibiting mining mine water to flow into the stream. Among the well informed it is a belief that the action begun by the Pennsylvania Railroad and the Mountain Water Supply Company is for the purpose of providing a basis for legislation.

A report current a year ago was that the water company contemplated raising the height of the reservoir dam about six feet. This would cut off the water to overflow the present line of the Indian Creek Valley Railroad and flood a part of Killarney Park and of course mean the re-location of the railway line.

Another opinion the company has to contend with is the ever increasing deposit of sulf in the basin. A stream of sulf in the creek carries down a large quantity each year. Portions of the upper section of the reservoir which a few years ago were under water are now permanently grown up in weeds.

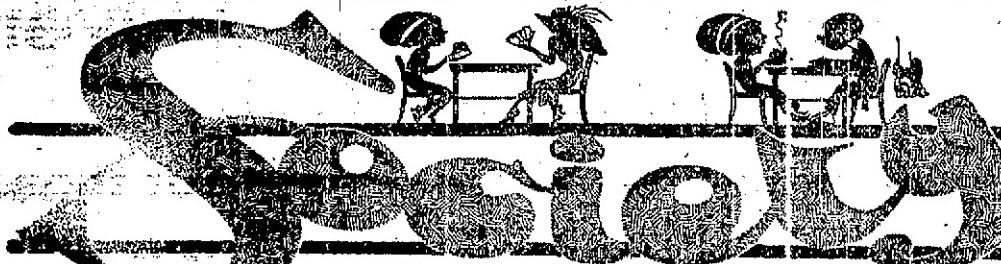

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3.—Reumption of the mining of soft coal in August was reflected in exports, which increased heavily over the previous month, although still below figures last year, according to foreign trade reports issued today by the Commerce Department.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3.—Coal exports during August aggregated 29,000 tons, worth $2,000,000, compared with 27,000 tons worth $2,519,000 in July and with 18,000 tons worth $157,000 in August of last year.

OLD IDEA IN UNIVERSITIES

Student Bodies, Fraternally Linked, Had Their Beginnings in the Fifteenth Century.

Fraternities today embodies many ancient practices in slightly modified form. College fraternities really date back to the Fifteenth century, when universities were few in number and students were attracted to them from many lands. The student body naturally got broken into groups according to nationalities, and these groups were known as "nations." Later came the organization of the student corps in German universities. In some American universities today there are nation societies, as the Philippine, Chinese, Japanese and Cuban, representing the nations and the Southern, Southwesterners. Pacific coast and others representing sections and states of the Union.

Four students of the Fifteenth century left from one university to another, supporting themselves by singing,begging, stealing and occasionally working.

The freshman had a rather sorry time. In the German universities they were termed "Schutzen," and were compelled to perform all sorts of menial offices for the upper class men who were termed "Beghantes," and were often worthy of that title. From this practice developed the system of "begging" in the English grammar schools. That practice traces back even to the academic schools of Athens. The freshman, on admission to a university, went through an initiation ordeal which was the origin of the present-day hazing.

FRILLS IN FAVOR

Lingerie Blouses Again Demand
Milady's Attention.

Plan Gives Opportunity for Revival of Some of the Delightful Old Fashions.

That the revived interest in lingerie blouses is not a fad is proved by the consideration given them by the world's greatest dressmakers, noted a fashion writer in the New York Tribune. Models showing all sorts of interesting variations of the lingerie blouse are shown.

There are women who consider a touch of white at the neck of their coats smart, and others who do not. Individual tastes may differ in this matter, so far as style is concerned, but opinion cannot be divided as to the becomingness of a taffy blouse with a tailored coat.

It is lamentable that such a charming fashion should for the last few years have been considered provincial and it is quite delightful to see the frilled collar of organza, sheer linen and dimity again appearing with the smartest of one-button coats. Nothing is more becoming than the old time navy blue suit accompanied by a white lingerie blouse. From all indications we are about to witness a return of this youthful and becoming style.

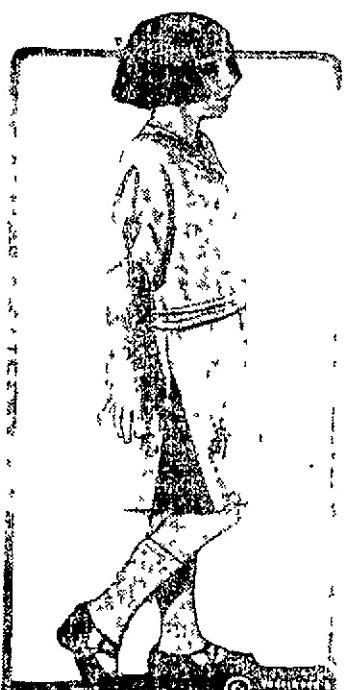

Frills are much in evidence on the new blouses. Even the Russian blouse has departed from the ways of its progenitors and has taken unto itself frills. There are blouses of fine white pique with big Russian collars, but tucking over to one side and having smart sailor frills of linen.

The frilled blouse gives an opportunity for the revival of some of the delightful old fashions. It means the renaissance of various types of collars made famous in history. It means the revival of lovely old lace as trimmings for those collars.

Designers and manufacturers are working to the utmost of their capacity creating models embodying the characteristics that made the frilled blouse hold a prominent place in fashions for so many years.

The popularity of the tailored suit for fall has created a demand not only for blouses of the frilly sort, but has brought into favor the vest blouse as well as silk chiffon and lace blouses of a dressy character, which when worn with a plain two piece suit transforms it into an afternoon costume.

FOR THE TEN-YEAR-OLD GIRL

Embroidery, piping and an inverted pleat of contrasting color strike one as interesting in this smart frock for the ten-year-old girl.

GARMENTS FOR THE BOUDOIR

Pongee, Lace, Dotted Swiss, Organza and Other Sheer Materials Are Being Used

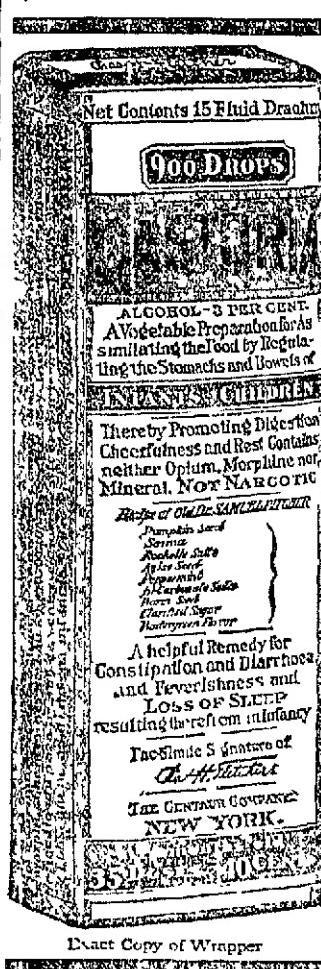

Pongee either in natural color or dyed, makes a good looking and serviceable negligee with a bit of embroidery in sets or contrasting color contrasting the trimming.

Lace plays an important role in the development of the more elaborate boudoir garments. Sometimes a lace coat will top a plain set, or perhaps of silk, and again a straight negligee like negligee may be made of panels of lace and panels of accordion plaited chiffon or other sheer silk.

Boudoir garments for warm weather wear are made of dotted Swiss, bright colored organza and other sheer cotton and linen materials. An attractive pajama garment recently seen featured blue linen for the pajama part with long smock of blue and white dotted Swiss.

Don't Spoil the Frock.
The most charming little dress may be utterly ruined so far as style is concerned if it is cut too long. If one feels that these dresses must be cut long enough to take care of shrinkage, put a tuck in the under side of the hem. That will solve the problem.

POWER DIRECT FROM THE SUN
MAN'S NEXT STEP, SAYS MARCONI

Human control over man will be easier, safer, and more enjoyable power derived direct from the sun, airplanes are now possible, and man need not work more than a mere fraction of each day to earn a living—that is what the world is coming to, according to Guglielmo Marconi, inventor of the wireless.

The great miracle-worker pictures the possibilities of the next half-century in an interview which Allen Dulac reports in the October number of Hearst's International Magazine.

Marconi believes not only that the world will be transformed in the next fifty years, but that in the end of time in action and discovery will shower benefits upon the human race at a constantly increasing rate.

Recent shipments in the field of scientific invention, Marconi told Mr. Ponson will seem insignificant in comparison with what the next half century will produce.

"It is inevitable that this will be so," he predicts. "We have more knowledge of natural laws now than ever before, and we are searching for more knowledge to-day as never before."

"We are just entering what may be called the field of vibrations, a field in which we may find more wonders than the mind can now conceive. He added, "We are learning that what once appeared to be the great forces of nature are not, in the real sense, great at all."

"An earthquake, the tides, winds even a tempest, these modern man finds more impressive than potential."

Scientists are now beginning to realize that the really great forces with which we may deal," the inventor went on, "are locked up in vibrations, so people that we cannot feel them though we can feel a summer zephyr as it blows upon our cheeks. Wireless is the only device ever made by man that can carry sound, there was a sound carried by human being in all the explosives in America were to be exploded in New York, the sound could not be heard in England."

"We still obtain power in a

primitive way. Considering that the earth is swimming in an enormous ocean of power coming up in the form of vibrations it is indeed primitive to create radio waves and amounts of electricity by damming little rivers and turning little piles of sand from the ground. The world will not much longer dig or burn coal. This will be only a question of time until we obtain electricity direct from the sun or from atoms, sooner or later in both ways."

Marconi sees a certain danger to the world in the great progress that he expects.

Tornadoes Scheduled To Meet Heavy United Team Here Tomorrow

Local Independent Gridders Confident of Their Strength.

PLAY SATURDAY ALSO

By James M. Driscoll
Sporting Editor.

Weather Forecast: "United to be swept by tornado tomorrow."

Such a prophecy will undoubtedly be fulfilled when the Connellsville Tornado football team hits the representatives of the United community at 4:15 o'clock tomorrow afternoon at Fayette Field. The game will mark the second appearance of the Coker Independent outfit and, if anything, the team will be much stronger than previously.

United is no easy contender for any football team and will give the Tornadoes a heap of trouble, but that is just what the locusts are itching for. Suterville was able to offer no resistance last week and the Brown and White gridders are anxious to meet some opposition which can test their real strength.

In Gove recently acquired quarterback, Coach Jones believes he has a man equal to the best. The only weak spot has been at quarter. LaRote playing away this season. Butano, who had been acting in that position, will play his last game tomorrow at halfback. He leaves to the new future for Masontown, where he will reside.

In order to keep down the dust the Tornado management will have the field watered by the fire department tomorrow morning. The gridiron will be thoroughly soaked so that by afternoon, when it has sufficiently dried for the game, the dust will not rise again.

Cokers Being Drilled for J. H. S. Clash

Connellsville High School got down to work again this afternoon and this time the drills are hard. The gridders are preparing to meet the first team of the season next Saturday in Johnstown—the game will not be played under home colors as the Orange and Black are going to travel to the Fleet City.

The Cokers are considered to have a fair chance of defeating the Johnstons this year. The Orange and Black outfit is well balanced in practically all departments and friction is a thing of the past. Coach Wink is putting his heart and soul into the work of preparing the team for one of the best years in High School history and his boys are with him. That alone is a big factor.

A glaring error, however, is the report that Connellsville may win its first game from Johnstown this year. Although the team has been defeated repeatedly by the stronger Johnnies, it was only a few years ago when the Azure and Black was met at Fayette Field and trounced properly, 27-7. In 1920 the Cokers held the same school to a 0-0 score at Johnstown.

A number of cans from this place will make the trip to Johnstown.

The Hill Top Juniors defeated the South Side Juniors Saturday by the score of 1-0. The Hill Tops claimed a forfeit when the South Side failed to appear.

The Connellsville Tornadoes will play two games here this week. United will be the attraction tomorrow and Coach Jones expects to have another team lined up very soon for Saturday. The Tornadoes will be at Fayette Field this week-end in the absence of the High School, which team plays at Johnstown.

WILL RETAIN OLD COACHES

Williams College Authorities Likely to Keep the Men Who Have Done Good Work.

Present indications are that there will be few changes in the list of coaches for major athletic teams at Williams college next year despite the engagement of Guernon Messer as athletic director. Official announcement has been made in all cases, but Percy Wendell, the old Harvard star, will surely be back to coach in football, while Jack Coombs, formerly of the Athletics, is slated to look after fall baseball practice. Doctor Steely is practically sure of being in charge of track again. Nothing has been said in regard to basketball coach for next year, but it would not be surprising if John Shanahan of North Adams was reappointed, as he has met with excellent success during the last two years, considering the numerous handicaps which faced him. He has built up a system which should commence to bear fruit next season.

LOW PRICES FOR STARS

Extravagance is not a fault of the Cardinal management. It lets the New York and other aggregations pay the price.

The club paid in 1915 just $500 for Rogers Hornsby. It has been offered approximately a quarter of a million for him since.

It paid $300 for Bill Doak. If McGraw gave $100,000 for McQuillan, what would he pay for Doak?

The Cards paid nothing for Almstrong or Del Gainer. Fourties cost but a couple of thousand dollars.

Discarded players brought McHenry, Smith, Mueller, Eshens, Pertica, Sherdell and Macle to the club. The treasury didn't suffer one kopek.

This should prove that money cannot always obtain the best results in baseball.

Baseball scores, play by play, will be broadcast by A. Rendino, manager of the Paramount Recreation Parlors. His wireless outfit, over which he received major league baseball scores throughout the summer, will be connected to a magnavox and given direct to the patrons of the game, from a window of his establishment. #### SHORTSTOP BANCROFT NEAR BONEHEAD PLAY

Brilliant Giant Player Fields Same Ball He Hit.

Fast Runner on Third and Fielder
With Poor Throwing Arm Save
New Yorker From High Rating,
In the List of "Bones."

Dave Bancroft, brilliant shortstop of the Giants, is rated as a smart player. Hughey Jennings, now acting as assistant to John McGraw in directing the Giants, says that Bancroft is the brains of the New York club.

Only recently in a game in the National league, Bancroft pulled a play that might have given him high rating in the list of "bones," had not the umpire come to his rescue.

With a runner on third base, Bancroft lifted a fly ball to the outfield. It was a hard-hit ball and the fielder was compelled to go deep to make the play.

It so happened that the runner on third was a very fast man, and that the fielder making the catch had a rather poor throwing arm. These two things tended to save the day for Bancroft.

The runner on third had his base until the fly ball was caught. The moment it struck the hands of the fielder he dashed for the plate.

The fielder with the weak arm realized that he was too deep to have any chance of cutting the runner down at the plate, returned the ball leisurely to the infield.

Bancroft, playing proper baseball, had run out his hit to the limit and was between first and second when the relay came back into the infield. Bancroft couldn't resist the temptation to field the ball and toss it to some other player of the team in the field.

The team in the field contended that in fielding the ball, Bancroft had killed a chance for a play at the plate, and for such interference the runner who had scored should be declared out.

The umpire at the plate, however, ruled that the run had crossed the plate before Bancroft even touched the ball, and that the act of the New York shortstop in no way prevented a play, since there was no play possible. It was a close call for the brainy Bancroft.

At the Theatres

THE SOISSON.

"SMILIN' THROUGH" Norma Talmadge's most ambitious picture which is being shown today and tomorrow at this theatre is said to be the most costly, elaborate and artistic photoplay yet made by the First National Pictures Inc. And so we must go a little farther and say that "Smilin' Through" is positively the best thing that Norma has yet done for the silent drama. More than that it is a magnificent dramatic production in every respect. It is a new classic of the screen. Norma is superb in the dual role which she plays in her thoroughly capable manner. She proves herself a guide tragedienne as well as emotional actress in the part of Moynihan who is killed by a jealous lover on her wedding day. She is charming, stirring, adorable as Kathleen the little niece of Moynihan. The story revolves itself around the romance of Kathleen and young Kenneth Wayne, son of the star of Moynihan, and the embittered life of Jean Carteret, who was deprived of his beautiful bride at the altar. Wundham Standing as John Carteret and Harrison Ford as Kenneth Wayne, and Jeremiah Wayne give magnificent support to Miss Talmadge. The remainder of the cast, including Alec B. Francis, Glenn Hunter, George Givot, William Saris and Eugene Lockhart also do fine work.

Thursday, Friday and Saturday Wesley Barry, better known as "Freckles," will be seen in "Penrod".

THE PARMAINT.

MR. BARNES OF NEW YORK is being shown today at this theatre. The photoplay is the film version of the famous novel and play of the same name and has as its theme a Corsican vendetta in which an American with a sense of honor finds himself in the humor of the Yankee Tom Moore crops out in the midst of the most trivial situations and where one expects to tragedy one sees the situation turn into comedy. This picture is off the beaten track, but making excellent photoplay entertainment. There is suspense, comedy, seem to be it's good acting and feminine beauty. Moreover the production was directed by Vice Schermerhofer and designed by art director Cedric Gibbons, is an example of the plant that was recently on the screen. Paul Draper is supported by Sodium children Anna and Sydnie Ainsworth, Otto Goldstein and several others.

A picture that will be talked about when other photoplays are forgotten. Wednesday and Thursday, Clinton Windom and Elliott Dexter will be featured in "Grand Larceny".

THE ORPHIN.

EGN I TELL YOU I'D RYTHM is the feature picture. It is a tragicomedy and romantic presents three Paramount girls, Gloria Swanson, Lillian Gish and Willard Stillman in the leading parts. It is a delightful picture of outdoor to all persons characters which all will admit. In the story the hand of no Cullen Dale played by Mr. Reed is cleverly manipulated in trap of his own making when he tries to deceive the girl. It is treated in a somber case and to be let the truth in others. The result is that she doesn't believe him at all and when the other woman comes into the story is jealous. There is a touch of women's wiles and a soft-soliciting friend (played by Elliott Dexter) who tries to help Marjorie (Miss Swanson) to win out against the love mate, played by Dorothy Cumming. There is a polo game a scene in luxurious surroundings like no love scenes that are most enchanting, real a lot of good old-time comedy and what the split of the out doors. The timer

By Associated Press
SHATTUCK, Wash., Oct. 2.—One of the most spectacular chapters in the annals of world wide postal delivery may be written when Captain Roald Amundsen, famous Norwegian explorer, wings his way across the top of the world in his proposed attempt to fly an airplane from the tip of Alaska to northernmost Europe via the North Pole. While in his monoplane will ride a mail sack containing letters written by Nordic residents for delivery to friends in Europe.

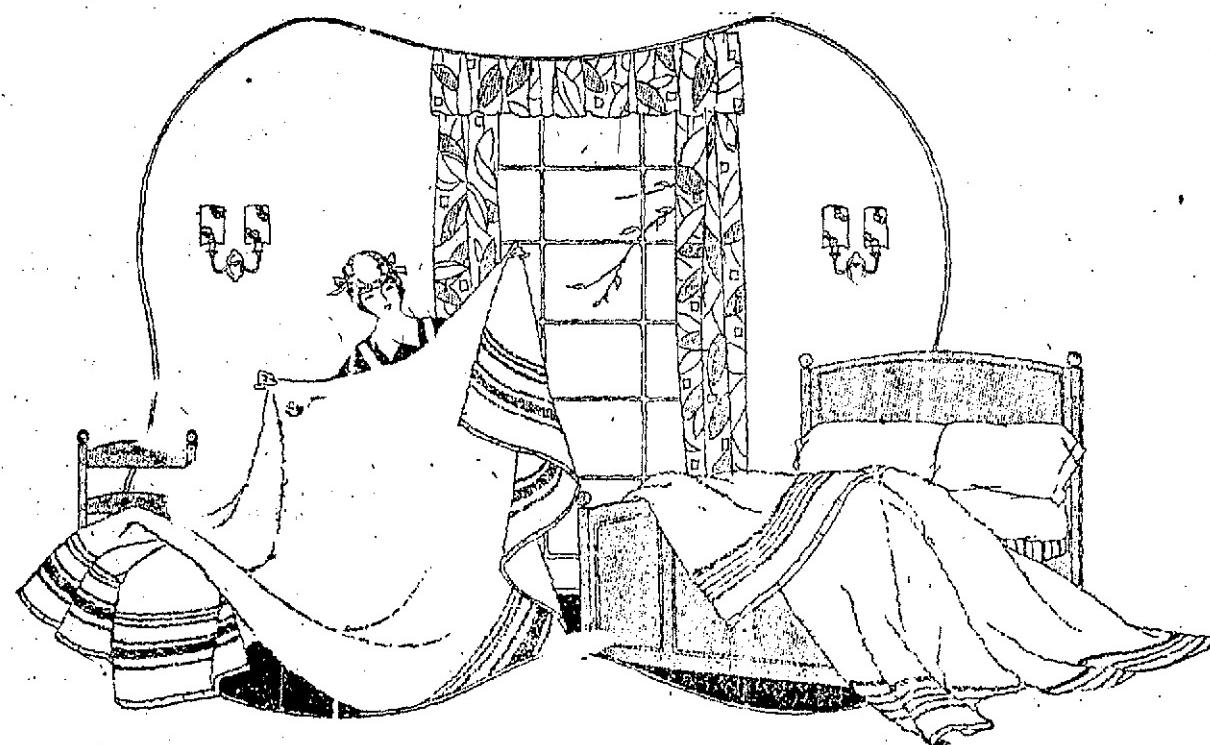

Weaker conditions had not forced a postponement of the flight until next year, these letters might have reached their destination a week ahead of the date required to make delivery by the established routes. As it is arriving perhaps more than a year later, they will have a priceless historical value to their recipients who will doubtless follow the affairs of their explorer-postman with intensified interest.

According to a report by Postmaster General of Nome to local postal officials, the letters were written when Captain Amundsen was about to depart from the winning camp on his way to Weiswinkle, 100 miles southwest of Point Barrow, where he will
